

I have an older cousin/sister and she was born on 8th December 2003. She is twenty years old and currently at university. When she grows up, she would like to be a doctor (I know she will be the best doctor there will be). She enjoys different cuisines from different countries. One of her favourite things to do is sleep and study hard with her friends.

I chose her as she is inspirational; she never gives up, always takes great care of me and her little brother. I also chose her as interestingly she was the one who gave me my name. (It is a beautiful name.)

My cousin has helped me in many ways: helping when I get stuck on different questions, in sticky situations or when I feel glum. She is also inspirational because she boosts my confidence and this is helpful. Lastly, she is very hard-working but finds space to spend time with me and her little brother.

From the massive impact my cousin/sister has made on me, I will treat everybody how I would like to be treated, I will work hard and never give up - just like my inspirational person!
